Man jabs sleeping wife with HIV

WELLINGTON: An HIV-positive man in New Zealand has admitted injecting his blood into his sleeping wife and infecting her with the virus which can cause AIDS, a newspaper reported yesterday. It is believed the man wanted to give her the disease so she would start having sex with him again, the Sunday Star-Times said. The man faces up to 14 years imprisonment when he is sentenced early next year. He discovered he was HIV-positive, but his wife and children were not, during health checks.
