Yes, it's time to move on but we couldn't resist one more Oscar story – it'll tide us over until the next one, at least!

This time, we focus our attention on the 18th Annual Elton John AIDS Foundation (EJAF) Academy Awards Viewing Party which was held at the Pacific Design Center this year. It was presented by Chopard (who blinged out most of the guests), businessman Raffy Manoukian and his wife Jo, and Neuro Drinks.

The foundation raises money to support HIV prevention programmes, anti-discrimination efforts and direct services to persons living with HIV/AIDS. To date, it has raised almost US$25 million.

The event this year kicked off with a cocktail reception, a formal dinner before the actual viewing of the Academy Awards and raised US$3.7 million.
