Brad Pitt's mother slams gay marriage

BRAD Pitt's mother Jane Pitt has "Christian" views on abortion and gay marriage.

The showbiz matriarch — whose son Brad is one of the most vocal supporters of gay rights in Hollywood — has written a letter to her local newspaper the News-Leader in Springfield, Missouri, urging people to vote for Republican presidential candidate Mitt Romney, due to him being a "family man with high morals".

She also hits out at US President Barack Obama because he supports the "killing of unborn babies and same-sex marriage".

She wrote: "I am ... a Christian and differ with the Mormon religion. But I think any Christian should spend much time in prayer before refusing to vote for a family man with high morals, business experience, who is against abortion, and shares Christian conviction concerning homosexuality just because he is a Mormon.

"Any Christian who does not vote or writes in a name is casting a vote for Romney's opponent, Barack Hussein Obama — a man who sat in Jeremiah Wright's church for years, did not hold a public ceremony to mark the National Day of Prayer, and is a liberal who supports the killing of unborn babies and same-sex marriage."

Pitt — who is engaged to Angelina Jolie — has previously taken part in a play about gay rights alongside George Clooney, and hinted he would not marry the actress until all Americans, including homosexuals, have the right to wed. — BANG Showbiz
