MAKING A DIFFERENCE

This year, guests at the Motown-themed White Tie & Tiara Ball of Sir Elton John and David Furnish raised over GBP4,000,000 for the Elton John AIDS Foundation – among the 10 largest AIDS grant-making foundations in the world. This annual event, held at the couple’s grand Old Windsor home, is organised in association with Chopard, with a White Tie & Tiara Ball Happy Sport watch made exclusively for the charity auction. Friends of the hosts turned up dressed to the nines, sparkling with Chopard creations to walk down a plush purple carpet. Among them were Naomi Watts, who set off her detailed gown with a sublime triple-strand diamond necklace from Chopard. The event dazzled in star power: George Michael and Jeremy Piven showed up, Chopard co-president Caroline Scheufele was also there, while the dynamic duo of Elton John and Smokey Robinson serenaded the crowd with a rendition of ‘My Girl’.
