Victoria designs unique garment to support World AIDS Day

VICTORIA Beckham has created a custom t-shirt to raise money to fight AIDS.

The former Spice Girls singer has designed the unique garment to support World AIDS Day today (Dec 1) and it is available to buy from her Victoria Beckham store on Dover Street in London.

Victoria is donating 100 per cent of the proceeds from the t-shirts to UN AIDS to help people with the disease.

She posted on Twitter: "This #WorldAIDSDay I've created a custom t-shirt to raise funds & awareness for @UNAIDS x vb (sic)"

Another tweet read: "Help me support #WorldAIDSDay. T-shirts available @VBDoverSt with 100% proceeds supporting @UNAIDS x vb (sic)"

UN AIDS goals are to reduce sexual transmission of HIV by 50 per cent by 2015 and through drug use by 50 per cent as well.

The charity also wants to eliminate new HIV infections among children by 2015 and reduce AIDS-related maternal deaths, it also wants to reach 15 million people living with HIV with lifesaving antiretroviral treatment by 2015.

Meanwhile, Victoria's husband David Beckham and their eldest son Brooklyn were involved in a car crash in London on Saturday (Nov 29).

The retired soccer star was collecting the 15 year old from Arsenal's training ground when a woman crashed her Mitsubishi into his Audi, but luckily no one was seriously hurt.
